Purpose

The purpose of this document is to summarize functionality included in the release of the Census Bureau's developing data dissemination platform at data.census.gov.

Latest Updates

In August 2020, we released the following updates to the site:

- Incorporating filter chips more prominently into advanced search and in the single search bar. This update allows you to keep your previous filter selections when you edit your search in the single search bar.
- Table Display update for look and feel as well as column width updates
- Removal of table display to allow for more table results to be available in All Results Page
- More links and connections with MDAT
- Continued download improvements
- 46 defect resolutions. Highlights include:
 - The default pathway for zip code tabulation area (ZCTA) was corrected to take you down that pathway that provides the most data.
 - Improvements to help prevent the site from freezing when trying to display large tables.
 - The maps automatically zoom to your selected area in situations where a manual scroll was required in the past.

Features

Current features on data.census.gov include:

Single Search Bar

Unified Search: The single search bar allows you to type free form text and supports searches by:

- Topic
- Geography (nation, state, city/town, and zip code/zip code tabulation area)
- Table name
- Table ID (single or multiple table IDs)
- North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) code

Other features of single search include:

- Entity extraction: Allows you to search multiple filters at once (example: a search for ‘population Maryland Virginia’ sets filters for ‘population total,’ ‘Maryland,’ and ‘Virginia.’)
- Typeahead search suggestions: As you type into the single search bar, a box will appear with search suggestions that update in real time
- Spelling corrections, related search suggestions, and relevancy rules are applied to the free form text you enter in the search bar

Advanced Search

Free Form Search Box: The free form search bar directly under the advanced search heading allows you to search by keyword or table ID. You can even enter multiple table IDs at a time.

Filters: Browse filters to find check boxes that allow you to select your desired:

- Topic
- Geography
- Year
- Survey
- Code (industry, commodity, material/fuel, or product and service codes)

North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) and North American Product Classification System (NAPCS) are included in the code filters. The site supports options to select collections of codes in bulk.

“Find a Filter” Search Box: The second search box that says “Find a Filter” allows you to select pre-defined search options to quickly choose your topic, geography, year, survey, or code without clicking through the filter panel. You must input an exact text match in order to find a filter and you must click the box for the desired filter in order to select it.

Geography Filters

Summary Levels: The geography filters provide comprehensive access to nearly 250 geographic summary levels, listed in Appendix 1.

Dual Pathways to Select Your Geography: The filters offer two methods to select your geography

- 1) By default the site provides a collapsed list of common geographic levels to help you easily get to the most popular geographies. You can access more complex geographies by drilling into “Within other geographies” or by clicking the Show Geographic Components Toggle.
- 2) The site allows you to turn on the Show Summary Levels toggle to see a list of all geographic areas with their 3-digit summary level codes.

Search within Geography Filter Panels: Geography panels include a magnifying glass in the upper right that allows you to search the list without having to scroll through it.

Collections of Geographies: The site allows you to select collections of geographies in bulk by clicking a single check box. See Appendix 2 for a list of available collections.

Navigation

Single Search Bar Displayed on All Pages: The single search bar appears at the top of all pages on data.census.gov, allowing you to refine your search without having to return to the landing page. When you run a new search, your previous filter selections will be remembered by default so you won't lose them in your search. The search bar features a toggle that allows you to turn off the functionality that remembers your previous filters across searches.

Filters and Download Accessible on All Relevant Pages: The site features options to access search filters and table downloads in the Customize Table view and on all search result pages. This provides a consistent filtering experience across the site and greater flexibility to refine your search without having to navigate back to the advanced search page.

All View of Search Results Content: After running a search, the All Results page will show you the top tables, maps, and web pages in one view. This is powered by consolidated curated results, meaning you may see prescribed search results and single estimates for selected topics based on geography and year.

- The table preview appears on the right side of your screen when the you click table result on the left
- The table view can be expanded by clicking on the Customize Table button

Clear a Search: Clicking the U.S. Census Bureau logo in the upper left allows you to clear all selections and navigates you back to the landing page so you can start a fresh search Navigation Options in Upper Left: Most pages feature four tabs in the upper left ("All," "Tables," "Maps," and "Pages") that allow you to navigate between the different parts of the site. If you are in the Customize Table or Customize Map view, you will see clickable links in the upper left for "Search" "Tables" or "Maps" that will take you back in the navigation hierarchy.

Tables

Table View: All table views have features that allow you to:

- Resize columns by moving the edge of the cell right/left in the column header
- Freeze columns in place¹ so they remain in view as you scroll horizontally
- Rearrange columns by dragging them
- Sort a column in ascending or descending order by clicking the column header (Econ tables only)
- View definitions for column headers and data values in selected surveys by hovering over them
- View pre-filtered versions of large tables (e.g. County Business Patterns) to more easily explore the most popular information the table provides

- View iterated tables by race, Hispanic origin, ancestry, and country of birth

Customize Table View: Provides additional features that allow you to:

- Add or remove geographies, years, codes, or population groups through a filtering process consistent with advanced search
- Turn off the margin of error with a click of a button. By default, the margin of error will be displayed for relevant tables.
- Transpose the rows and columns in a table with the click of a button
- Hide columns
- Restore the table layout at the click of a button
- Access links to data notes and bulk data downloads (e.g. file transfer protocol sites)

Large Table Download: When the table is too large to display on screen, the site will provide an option to download the table

Save Your Search and Results

Save Your Results: Copy the full URL from your address bar to save the table or map you are viewing.

Save Your Search: Copy the URL from the advanced search page to save your search.

Learn about the different components of the URL and more functionality in the FAQ: How Do I Save My Results or Search⁵.

Mapping

Selection Map: In addition to the single search and geography filters, the map offers two additional ways to select your geographies:

- Click and select individual geographies
- Use the rectangle selection tool to select a group of geographies

These selections carry over as you navigate between the maps, tables, and the advanced search pages on the site. Over 100 geographic summary levels are supported. See the list of supported Map Layers⁶ for details on the available summary levels by year.

Thematic Map: Allows you to map an estimate from a data table across a single geographic layer. All thematic map views have features that allow you to:

- Choose the geographic layer, product type, and data variable
- Zoom in and out. Geography labels, boundaries, streets, railroads, and street names automatically populate based on the zoom level
- Clear all of your selected geographies

Customize Map View: Provides additional features that allow you to:

- Adjust the color palette

- Increase or decrease the number of data classes in your legend
- Change the legend's classification type (Natural Breaks, Quantile, or Equal Interval)
- Generate a table view of your selected variable and geography labels

American Community Survey and Decennial Census data tables are supported by thematic maps.

Geography Profiles

You can access a profile⁷ that includes statistics and visualizations across topics, surveys, and programs for your geography in a single view. The profiles are accessible for the nation, states, counties, and cities/towns.

Share/Embed Visualizations: The profiles feature enhanced options that allow you to access a link to share a visualization or embed it in your own html website.

Other Features

Refreshed Look and Feel: In Spring 2019, a major refresh was applied to the look and feel to improve the user experience and navigation throughout the site. Since then, we continue to make periodic tweaks based on user feedback, such as a refreshed landing page and better table display that requires less scrolling.

Use the Site on Mobile Devices: Responsive design allows you to experience the site in a way that has been optimized for your smartphone or tablet, in either portrait or landscape orientation

Architecture Enhancements: Includes ongoing research activities to identify mapping and table solutions to enable future features.

Known Limitations and Defects

Limitation	Description
Data	This release does not include all Census Bureau datasets or data products. See our data table ⁸ for a listing of data offered in data.census.gov. We will be providing support for additional data with future releases. Note: SF1 does not contain all previously released geographies.
Browser	Google Chrome is the recommended browser for the site.
Iterated Products	Iterated tables for race, Hispanic origin, ancestry and country of birth are not searchable in the single search bar. Access to these tables is only available through the Advanced Search.

⁸ <https://ask.census.gov/prweb/PRServletCustom?pyActivity=pyMobileSnapStart&ArticleID=KCP-5489>

Limitation	Description
Filters	The topics and other options available within the filters continue to be updated during the releases. Users may notice some inconsistencies as we complete these updates.
Order	Geographies may not appear in alphabetical order, and estimates in the data downloads may not appear in the expected order. We are working to address this.
Collections of Geographies	We are continuing to add more options that allow you to select collections of geographies in a single click in the geography filters (Example: All census tracts in the United States). Please tell us what collections you would like us to add by emailing cedsci.feedback@census.gov .
Performance	Some users are experiencing site freezing and inconsistent mapping results. Please copy the URL from the address bar and email cedsci.feedback@census.gov so we can help troubleshoot if you run into any of these issues.
Print	The current print functionality works for small tables with a single geography. We are working to expand the print functionality in future releases so that it will print the entire table without cutting off the rows or columns.
Navigation	Users may experience inconsistencies when trying to use the back or forward buttons provided in the browser. Because of this, we recommend navigating between the different pages on data.census.gov using the tabs and clickable links we provide in the upper left (example: "All," "Tables," "Maps," "Pages.") For full navigation details and screenshots, please check out the FAQ: How do I navigate between the different pages? ⁹
Geography Names	Geography names may appear differently than in the previous releases, because multiple deliveries of geography names were used in the past. We are working with our Geography Division to make sure geo names appear correctly on the site.

Microdata Access

The microdata access tool on data.census.gov/mdat allows you to create custom tables using public use microdata from the American Community Survey and Current Population Survey. The tool allows you too:

- Select variables and restrict the values you include in your analysis
- Recode variables to create custom groupings
- Select geographies from various summary levels depending on the survey (region, division, state, county, and public use microdata area)
- Format a custom table by dragging variables to the rows and columns
- Restrict your table universe
- Download or use API queries to output the table view or raw data

⁹ <https://ask.census.gov/prweb/PRServletCustom?pyActivity=pyMobileSnapStart&ArticleID=KCP-5936>

Limitations: The site does not currently have the functionality to:

- Provide margins of errors or any other custom calculations such as percentages or medians
- Show data over time in a single table view
- Calculate an average over time for monthly CPS datasets
- Produce tables that are larger than 400 columns by 2000 rows

There is also a known defect in Internet Explorer where updating the vintage does not update the data values correctly. We suggest that users access the site through the recommended browser (Google Chrome) as we work to resolve this issue.
